By creating the background knowledge base in the teaching materials and by excerpting authentic specialised texts and key police and security terminology for the CEFR B2 level of language competence they have contributed to the updating of the language teaching contents for the police and the security practice. The material also provides the students with a guideline and an opportunity to gain and improve the practical language knowledge and communication skills in the area of policing and security services. According to the criteria of the Scientific Board of the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava stipulating the classification of outputs, the work is a university textbook with a significant international impact on the development of foreign language education for the police in a global context, therefore, the authors allowed themselves to classify the output in the A+ category.
2.	V2 1 FERENČÍKOVÁ, Mária Analýza vybraných ľudskoprávných termínov v medzijazykovom porovnaní / An interlingual analysis of human rights terms / author Mária Ferenčíková.

	In: Cudzie jazyky v premenách času / Foreign Languages in Changing Times [electronic document] : peer-reviewed proceedings from an international scientific conference / edited by Roman Kvapil, reviewed by Lívia Adamcová, reviewed by Daniela Breveníková, reviewed by Danuša Lišková. - Bratislava : Published by EKONÓM, 2020. - ISBN 978-80-225-4710-9. - pp. 34-59. [FERENČÍKOVÁ, Mária (100%)] The scientific article presents an analysis of selected human rights terms excerpted from the Constitution of the Slovak Republic and their equivalents in the English language. The abstract nature of the concepts makes it difficult to define their content and formulate a definition, which has an impact on finding a matching concept in the second language system. The terminological analysis was carried out as part of the author's dissertation which is directly connected to the research task of the Department of Public Law of the Academy of the Police Force titled Protection of Human Rights in Police Work (Research No. 204). According to the criteria of the Scientific Board of the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava stipulating the classification of outputs, the work is a scientific publication as part of an edited proceedings. 3.	ADF 1 FERENČÍKOVÁ, Mária Parametre neverbálnej komunikácie vybraných štátnych príslušníkov tretích krajín / Parameters of non-verbal communication of selected third-country nationals / author Mária Ferenčíková. The research project aimed to enhance the effectiveness of intercultural communication using foreign languages (English, German, Russian and non-European languages) in the police detention centres for foreigners and thus prevent conflict, misunderstandings and ensure the respect for human rights and freedoms. In this context the contribution of the author investigates the non-verbal communication of the selected nationalities – third-country nationals (from Afghanistan, Pakistan, Syria, Vietnam) – detained as illegal migrants in the police detention centres for foreigners. According to the criteria of the Scientific Board of the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava stipulating the classification of outputs, the work is a scientific article published in a national journal. 2.	„Ochrana ľudských práv v činnosti polície“ / Protection of Human Rights in Police Work, research task,

Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava, 2014 – 2021, Research No. 204

The aim of the research task was to provide suggestions and recommendations for improvement of the position of the police as an authority protecting the rights of persons in the civil society based on the analysis of the current situation de lege lata and practical knowledge (with the specification of the rights and the subjects which are the most frequent targets of human rights violations from the part of the police officers). It also aimed to (de lege ferenda) provide recommendations on the legislative, institutional and personal level in order to strengthen the status of the police in guaranteeing the protection of the rights of persons and for the improvement of the effectiveness of the position of police officers de iure and de facto in the given area.

The scientific research task focused on addressing the current social issues of human rights protection in the work of the police. The research was divided into three basic partial tasks: 1. Position and responsibilities of the police force in the system of the state authorities of the SR in protecting the rights and freedoms. 2. Protection of the citizens of the Roma minority and the work of the police. 3. Protection of the fundamental rights and freedoms of foreign nationals.
