Application Aspects related to the Performance of the Service Actions

24 - 25 September 2019

Institute of Education of the Ministry of Justice at Omšenie

The conference is supported by a project No. APVV-17-0217 Service actions performed by a police officer and the application of a principle of appropriateness from the perspective of criminal and administrative law

The team of the project APVV-17-0217 Service actions performed by a police officer and the application of a principle of appropriateness from the perspective of criminal and administrative law organizes the international scientific conference with an aim to analyse the application aspects related to the performance of the service actions. The conference will focus on the theory-practice linkages found in the performance of the service actions with regards to the principle of legality and appropriateness. The conference will be a platform for the practical demonstrations of the service actions and coercive measures performed in line with the Act No. 171/1993 Coll. on the Police Force. Administrative-legal, criminal-legal and constitutional-legal aspects of the service actions and coercive measures will be highlighted.

The focus of the Conference:

1. Legislation framework for the service actions
2. Legislation framework for the coercive measures
3. Legality of the service actions
4. Appropriateness of the service actions
5. Application practice in the performance of the service actions
6. Application practice in the performance of the coercive measures
7. Constitutional and legal aspects of the service actions
8. Administrative and legal aspects of the service actions
9. Criminal and legal aspects of the service actions
10. Human rights vs service actions
11. International and legal aspects of the service actions
12. Technical equipment of the police officers
13. Specialized and physical training of the police officers
14. Visions, future of the legality and appropriateness of the performance of the service actions
