SUBJECT CHARACTERISTICS

The fundamental educational unit in the credit system of study is the subject. The subject is exercised in one or more forms. Each subject is assigned a code and a title. The information on the detail of the subject is presented in the subject information sheet (more information: www.akademiapz.sk under the section of each department in the subsection of Educational Activities). The character of the subject follows the character of the study programme and the details of the study specialization. The subjects fall into the following basic categories: legal subjects, security subjects, and subjects providing a common basis of university education, such as management, information science, foreign languages, physical education etc.

STUDENT PLAN OF STUDY

When signing up for the subjects, the student follows the recommended plan of study and respects the required subjects, recommended sequences, as well as the limits in capacity and time. When creating the study plan for the academic year and respecting the sequence of subjects, the student signs up mandatorily for:

- All mandatory subjects required by the study plan,
- Agreed number of subjects from the particular groups of mandatory optional subjects.

The student signs up for such number of subjects, that would allow him/her to obtain a sufficient number of credits necessary in the particular term to meet the requirements for continuing in the study, or for its due completion.
