5.	The aim of the scripts is to provide a comprehensive view of the issues of protection and support of victims of crime as well as the legal protection of victims in the context of restorative justice. The script is also intended to arouse readers' interest in this very important topic. The scripts are intended primarily for students of the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava and students of law faculties for a more detailed study of the issue in the context of criminology and criminal law, as well as the general legal community. The scripts are divided into 5 chapters. In the context of the primary chapters, the authors deal with cardinal topics: "Victim of crime from the perspective of victimology", "Law on victims of crime and the impact of the criminal justice system on victims of crime", "Restorative justice, its distinctive elements, social interaction in social networks and mechanisms of trafficking in human beings in correlation with the environment of social networks," „Injured in criminal proceedings”.

VI.5 Participation in conducting (leading) the most important research projects over the last six years (maximum of five)
1.	Slovak Research and Development Agency under Contract no. APVV-19-0102. "Effectiveness of the preparatory procedure - examination, evaluation, criteria and impact of legislative changes."  The issue of the effectiveness of law, respectively. its individual subsystems, which also include criminal law and especially in relation to the procedural branches of these subsystems, is very broad and is of interest not only to legal theory and practice, to the professional public, but also to the general public. Efficiency is an even more important concept in relation to criminal law, because it is this branch of law that most significantly interferes with fundamental human rights and freedoms. It can be stated that measuring the effectiveness of criminal proceedings is important. To date, no research project has taken place in the Slovak Republic that would focus on assessing legislative changes in relation to the effectiveness of criminal proceedings. The project is implemented in cooperation with the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava and the Faculty of Law of Comenius University Bratislava. Npor. JUDr. Patrícia Krasna, PhD., LL.M. is the researcher of the project for the Academy of the Police Force in Bratislava and within the project she deals with the issue of victims of crime, elements of restorative justice and institutes that increasingly affect the effectiveness of the preparatory proceedings.
